Examination of the evidence for current healthy eating guidance, rationale for the draft proposed revised healthy eating guidance for a new health policy. Discussion on how it all fits (or not!) with current trends and manifesto proposals.

Fringe: What happened in Bristol West 2019

Louis Williams, Bristol Green Party

With a second Snap General election happening in the UK since 2015 - Bristol West was once again the prize target for the Green Party. But what happened in this constituency and what makes it the Party's best chance of a second Green MP? Attending this session is the campaign team who brought about the highest numbers of votes for any Green candidate outside of Brighton Pavilion. Ever.

Slideshow with a presentation about what happened in Bristol West during the snap election. Anecdotes, myth busting, stories about what occurred.

Training: Moving from climate emergency to climate action planning in your Council and community

Julian Dean, Climate Action Officer

Green Party Spring Conference, 20-22 March 2020 Hilton Metropole Brighton

Target audience: Councillors

Greens have made a decisive impact through climate emergency declarations. But how do we continue to have an impact in councils and communities? Through creating local strategies towards specific emissions reduction goals that involve allies and friends, you will have an opportunity to go home with a toolkit and some methods for the coming period.

Meeting: Migration, Refugees and Asylum Policy Working Group

Saturday 21 March

09.00-10.15

Fringe: Transport me to the future!

Caroline Lucas MP

This session will focus on how we decarbonise the transport sector with speakers to involve responsible travel (based in B&H) and stay grounded. Chair: Caroline Lucas, 3-4 speakers then Q&A with the audience.

Fringe: What next after Brexit? Brainstorming the future for ex-MEPs and an ex-Remain agenda

Catherine Rowett, Norwich Green Party, Former MEP

Are you in mourning for the loss of our European identity? So are we, your (former) MEPs.

So we're organising this fringe session in which we can come together with ideas and hope for how to move forward. Perhaps we can present some options for what we might do next, and you can bring ideas for what you can do next, and what the party can do next. Can we build on our new expertise, make the most of our contacts with Green friends across Europe, and do something to help turn Europe Green and keep the UK European?

Fringe: The Green Doughnut: How we create a distinct Green economic narrative

Martin Farley, Brighton & Hove Green Party, Convener of Tax & Fiscal Policy Working Group

Kate Raworth's 'Doughnut Economics' presented us with a new framework for measuring economic success and presenting Green economic ideas. In this session, we will begin to examine how the Green Party can articulate our vision of the economy in a way that is distinct from the traditional left/right perspective, and that provides an effective framework for developing current and future Green policies.

Meet at the Elections Surgery Desk on the Durham Gallery.

12.45-13.15

Meeting: International Policy Working Group

Informal working group to discuss proposed revision of the International Chapter of PSS.

Open to all GPEW members

13.30-14.45

Fringe: Electoral agreements with other parties – how can cooperation work successfully at local elections?

Matthew Ledbury, Oxfordshire Green Party, Chair of Oxfordshire Green Party's Elections Committee

Local electoral agreements with other parties have been increasingly tried as a way of getting round the unfairness of the first-past-the-post voting system and ensuring that Greens stand a good chance of being elected. Representatives from three local parties that have gained councillors as a result of successful cooperation with other political parties will outline what they have learned and how they made such agreements work effectively. Speakers will include Cllr Robin Bennett of Oxfordshire Green Party; Cllr Andree Frieze of Richmond Green Party; and Cllr Steve Williams of Guildford & Waverley Green Party.

The session will be an open discussion that aims to share experiences. Members from other local parties where electoral cooperation has been considered or attempted, successfully or unsuccessfully, will be particularly welcome to give their views on what works and what doesn't.

Fringe: Universal Basic Income - how to make it happen!

Cllr Martin Osborne, Brighton & Hove Green Party

This session will explore ways in which we could make UBI happen. It will be mainly looking at trials and inviting groups such as UBI Lab group who have pushed for trials in places such as Sheffield and Liverpool and are expanding into several other areas. Also, it would look at what the Green Party's proposals are for implementing the UBI on a national level, should we be in control of the next government, and to ask whether there could be other ways of doing this.

Training: Election literature - sharing the best to help your campaign win

Chris Williams, Head of Elections & Field Operations

Target audience: Local party officers and campaign managers

Your short campaign literature - both frequency and quality - are the make or break of your local election campaign. Find out what a competent literature plan looks like, how to do it cheaply, cut corners and what some of the more 'newer' Green Party election literature looks like.

Meeting: Disability Greens

Contact Person: Paul Weaver

17.15-18.30

Fringe: Climate justice is empty without social justice!

Magid Magid, Sheffield Green Party

Climate change is unfair - it was created by the privileged few, but will disproportionately hit disadvantaged groups the hardest and strongest. In addition, climate action is not always equitable and does not share its benefits fairly. Our response to climate change needs to be just and inclusive.

Climate change is not solely an environmental issue, that's why you can't have climate justice without social justice. Climate change is inextricably linked to challenges of eradicating poverty and increasing inclusiveness.

Come along to find out how we can ensure that the climate movement is as diverse as the challenges we face.

Chair: Magid Magid; Speakers: Alex Phillips; Fatima-Zahra Ibrahim, Green New Deal UK (invited) and a representative from the New Economics Foundation.

Fringe: View from the House of Lords

An update from Jenny Jones and Natalie Bennett on their work with Q&A.

Training: Canvassing - how to do it seriously well

Annie Pickering, Senior Field Organiser and Chris Williams, Head of Elections & Field Operations

Target audience: Local party officers and campaign managers

Green Party Spring Conference, 20-22 March 2020 Hilton Metropole Brighton

Canvassing - Talking to voters through canvassing leads to winning campaigns, but can also lose your voters if done badly. Find out how to canvass like a pro and how to get more people canvassing in your local party.

Training: The membership journey, using CiviCRM and exciting members so they stick with us

Culann Walsh, Membership Engagement Officer

The membership team will host a session on using our digital systems to give members the best experience of the Green Party. We will cover the basics of CiviCRM, using Civimail and segmenting your lists between members and supporters, finding who wants to help with canvassing and leafleting and breaking your members down ward-by-ward. We will also speak about best practice in welcoming new members, communicating with members going into grace, run through how the membership team communicate with these members and what is expected of you as a local party officer.

Fringe: Localism agenda: Greens in power transforming towns

Ewan Jones, Central & South East Somerset Green Party, AGC Town & Parish Council Representative

The 'Age of Austerity' from 2010 has increased the importance of Town & Parish democracy – filling the gaps cut through higher Council tiers.

Brexit and the December 12 General Election have recognised Towns as strongly contested political geography, particularly owing to Labour Party failure outside Cities.

This session will celebrate what Greens in Power are already achieving to transform Towns across the country – and encourage Green Party Members to put themselves forward as part of the local solution to Britain's democratic deficit.

Green Party Spring Conference, 20-22 March 2020 Hilton Metropole Brighton

Three Green Mayors / Chairs of Town Councils will outline how each of their Councils are improving the lives of their communities and how members can get involved.

Training: Safeguarding - how to meet standards in your local party activities

Matt Browne, Policy and Governance Manager
